Police investigating missing Rotary funds

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Bethel Police Department is investigating the apparent embezzlement of funds from the Bethel Rotary Club.

Police Chief Alan Carr said the money was reported missing Tuesday. An audit is underway, he said Wednesday, to determine how much is missing and when it disappeared.

Until the audit is completed, he said, he could not comment further on the details of the case.

Cynthia Laux, president-elect of the Rotary, also declined to comment on the matter. The current Rotary president, Steve Wight, is out of state and could not be reached.

Grant will help pay to extend pathway to the North Road

By MICHAEL DANIELS

By sometime this summer walkers, cyclists, rollerbladers and other users of the Bethel Pathway should be able to connect directly to the North Road, on pavement all the way, and without the need to brave traffic on routes 2/26.

A $29,250 state grant will help fund the paving of an additional 2,200 feet of the pathway.

The new, 10-foot-wide, section will begin at the northern (campground) end of the recreational bridge.

From there it will double back alongside the ramp, turning right at the riverbank and crossing under both the recreational and highway bridges.

It will then proceed west for approximately 1,800 feet, along the top edge of the riverbank.

At the western end of the Bethel Family Dentistry property, the path will turn out to the North Road.

The pathway extension will run along easements (at this point still verbal) from Jeff and Patty Parsons, owners of Bethel Outdoor Adventures; Bill and Mary Dunton, owners of the BIG Adventure Center; and from John and Tracy Mason, who are allowing the path to cross both their residential and business properties.

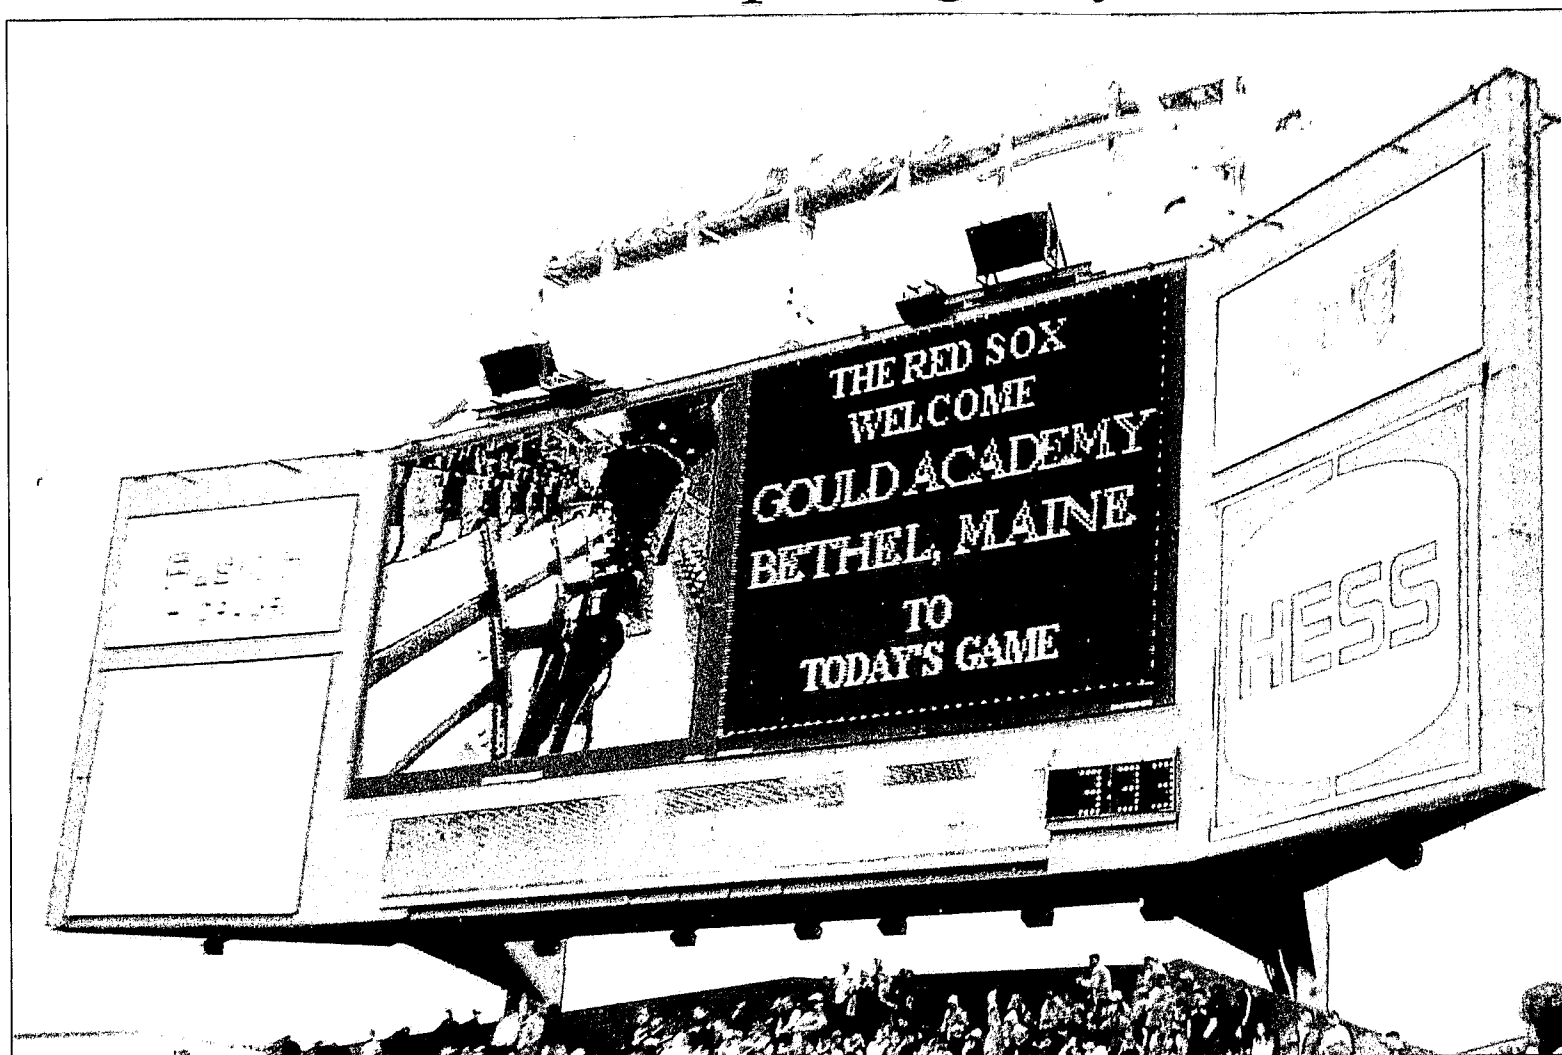

The grant that will help make the pathway extension possible is from the Maine Recreational Trails Program, which this year awarded $510,880 of federal highway funds to 30 trail projects around the state.

The grant application was prepared and submitted by the Bethel Area Trails Committee.

Take me out to ... Opening Day at Fenway

Students, faculty and staff at Gould Academy began their day Tuesday with a surprise, when it was announced that the whole school would travel to Fenway Park for the Red Sox home opener. The trip was made possible thanks to the generosity of two Gould trustees, Red Sox Partner & Vice Chairman Les Otten, and CEO and Principal of Integrity Asset Management Matt Bevin '85. Selectmen want more input before agreeing to name ambulance barn 'Greenleaf Station'

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Members of the Bethel Ambulance Service have asked town selectmen to name the lower Main Street rescue barn "Greenleaf Station" — in recognition of a family whose generations have served the ambulance service for three quarters of a century.

The selectmen think that would be a very fitting thing to do, but before they make a final decision on the matter they want to know what the public thinks.

The selectmen's hesitation stems at least in part from a recent embarrassment.

At their March 6 meeting the board voted (4-1) to endorse an effort to have Route 113 designated a National Scenic Byway.

But at their next meeting they rescinded the endorsement — in response to concerns raised by the public (or some members of the public) about the implications of federal byway designation.

The selectmen indicated last week that they were not eager for another such flip-flop.

Referring to the byways affair, Reggie Brown said "We never know when there's a buzz in somebody's bonnet out there."

"A good case" The letter requesting the barn be named for the Greenleaf family was signed by Ambulance Service Director Cheryl Bennett.

"Not only has Arlene Greenleaf, our longest serving director had a huge role in the history of the service," Bennett wrote, "but also, as you may, or may not know, the Greenleaf family were founders of the original ambulance service in our town. From that time, to the present, several members of their family have played an active role as volunteers. For those reasons, we feel that it would be most fitting to have the station so named 'Greenleaf Station.'"

No one on the board questioned the appropriateness of such a dedication.

"I think they've got a good case for making sure the family gets recognized," said Board Chairman Stan Howe.

Howe, who is also executive director of the Bethel Historical Society, noted that the rescue service was started by Greenleaf's Funeral Home sometime between 1926 (when Rumford Hospital opened) and 1931.

The home's hearse — thought to have been a Reo — doubled as the town's first ambulance. "They switched the sign when they had to do one or the other," Howe said.

Public invited to float along for Androscoggin 'float stocking' April 20

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Families looking for a different sort of vacation-week activity will have a unique opportunity next Thursday.

They (and anyone else who is interested) are invited to go with the flow and observe up close, a "float stocking" of brown trout in the Androscoggin River between Gilead and West Bethel.

The Mollycoket Chapter of Trout Unlimited and the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries & Wildlife will conduct the stocking.

The department will supply 1,700, yearling brown trout for TU volunteers to release.

The trout will be the new Embden Fish Hatchery's first stock released into Maine waters.

Due to the unseasonably warm winter in western Maine resulting in higher river temperatures, the stocking will be two to three weeks earlier than past years. A water temperature of 40-45 degrees offers the young trout a higher probability of survival.

Float stocking is a method of fish stocking in which the fish are loaded into floating pens attached to canoes and drift boats. The fish are floated downstream, then released along the way into likely hiding places and feeding habitats.

With traditional stocking methods of dumping directly into one location, brown and brook trout may not migrate up or down stream from the original stocking location for weeks, leaving them extremely vulnerable to natural predators as well as wily fishermen.

Seniors pull off 'Valley Forgery' and other capers

LADIES OF THE REVOLUTION—Senior Players Joanne Morse and Mary Colbath, standing, and Lorrie Hoeh in "Valley Forgery," a comedy about Marie Antoinette, Martha Washington and Fanny Howe. (Photo: Joe Arizzi)

By ALISON ALOISIO

"If I can do it, anybody can do it," said Rosabelle Tift of Bethel.

Tift is one of a dozen members of the Western Mountains Senior Players. The players are an over-50ish group of amateur actors. They are currently preparing for a two-hour, nine-play presentation on May 21.

The play titles alone should lure an audience. Among them: "Save Me a Place at Forest Lawn," "Slob School," "Canker Sores and Other Distractions."

The dozen actors include: from Bethel, Arizzi and her husband, Joe, Jodi Carter, Jackie Cressy, Ginny Walker and Tift; from Bryant Pond, Maryellen and Peter Gartner and Jim McLean, from Waterford, Joanne Morse and Mary Colbath; and from Albany, Lorrie Hoeh.

In recent years, Senior Players organizations have spread informally across the country. The Bethel group formed in January, with Lynn Arizzi serving as director.

"What makes Senior Players different from regular theater groups is that they carry their scripts with them," said Arizzi.

It's a concession to middle-aged memories. "No memorization of lines is required," she said.

But the players do dress in costume, use props, and move around the stage like regular actors.

Arizzi brings plenty of performing experience to her role as director. A music teacher, she has

CAN'T GET HIS FACTS STRAIGHT

To the Editor:

In response to the Albert Curtis letter of April 6 to The Citizen, let me explain who is responsible for placing items into the Greenwood Town Record Book.

In 1996, I was appointed by the other selectmen to take the minutes of our board meetings. This appointment entailed recording the Board of Selectmen's meeting minutes only. It did not entail any other duties beyond that. All items to be recorded and placed into the Greenwood Record Book are the responsibility of the town clerk, not by the secretary of the Board of Selectmen.

According to town records, no Fire Department Ordinance was ever officially presented to the town clerk for recording; therefore, no ordinance ever crossed the selectmen's desk for inclusion in a town warrant or for signature.

For some reason over the past several years Curtis has tried to discredit me in print, but he never manages to get his facts straight — and this time is no exception.

A BAR COMES WITH NOISE

To the Editor:

Last week the company that I work for had an employee party at The Funky Red Barn. We had some great food, good conversation and a band. Soon after the band started (about 8 p.m.) the police showed up with a complaint about noise.

Now I have been to some bars where the music is so loud you cannot hear yourself think; this has never been true at The Barn. I can sit at the bar and have a conversation with friends while the music is playing without a problem.

Let's get real here, if someone chooses to live next door to a bar they need to accept the fact that there is going to be noise. It is the nature of that type of business.

There are not many places in Bethel where people can go to enjoy good music with a dance floor.

It would be a shame if a vocal minority were to ruin it for the large number of people who enjoy having a good time at The Barn.

SENIOR COLLEGE SPRING TERM

To the Editor:

Western Mountains Senior College will be holding its spring term class registration at a Member Tea on April 20 from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m., at the Garland Chapel of the West Parish Congregational Church.

For new members who wish to join at this time, the dues for the remainder of the program year (through Aug. 31) are $20.

Topics for the four-session classes being offered during April, May and June include Digital Photography, Meditation, Spiritual Explorations, Readings in American Democracy, and Wendell Berry's essays and poems. In addition, there are several opportunities for members to take advantage of group rates for theater productions.

Current WMSC members have recently received their newsletter with detailed information on the classes and special events being offered this spring. If you are not currently a member and would like a newsletter, please call J. Cressy at 824-0508.

Anyone planning to attend the Member Tea is also asked to call J. Cressy.

WEST PARISH POTLUCK, AUCTION

To the Editor:

West Parish Congregational Church is planning an entertaining evening featuring fun, great food, and fellowship. On April 29 at 5:30 p.m. there will be a public potluck supper, which will be followed by a "Time and Talent" auction at 7 p.m.

You might ask, "What is a 'Time and Talent' auction?" It is an auction where persons offer their time for diverse projects such as a guided canoe trip, and others donate items showcasing their talents in cooking and handcrafts.

A wide range of items will certainly entice you to bid, a day sail on a 37-foot sailboat with lunch provided, a group photo of family or friends, several hand-knit items, a pastel painting of your home, books autographed by their authors, lessons in soap making and a 30-minute airplane flight over Bethel. There is something for everyone.

With David Murphy as auctioneer we assure that this will be an extraordinary evening.

So, come to the West Parish Congregational Church on April 29 and have a wonderful time. See you there.

REMEMBERING DAVE SALWAY

To the Editor:

The first day of this month I attended a remarkable service at the West Parish Congregational Church to commemorate the life of David Salway. Dave's wife of over 40 years, Norma, did an extraordinary job of summing up his time on earth, their relationship, and his attitudes with aplomb. I don't know how she was able to keep her composure through it all, but she did — much to her credit. She spoke plainly, but eloquently about his love of family and animals, plus his unfailing sense of humor despite all the "bumps" he had survived in a life well lived. She stressed how supportive he had been of her, particularly when she decided to pursue a teaching degree. Other members of Dave's family and his good friend Phil Rolfe supplemented a view of someone who remained thoroughly positive despite all the challenges he faced, especially during the past five years of serious illness.

Norma mentioned that Dave had various sites he visited each day during his working years, one of them being the post office. He had a regular tradition of discussion with those he met on his various rounds. I was one of those who often saw him at the post office. We usually exchanged some kind of greeting and Dave invariably had a humorous quip to make about the current situation. I recall one particular time I was in the post office with an out-of-town visitor who was accompanying me on my errands. With him, I was talking to several other men. Dave came along and said, "Good morning, gentlemen, using the term loosely — and you too Stan." I responded with a quip of my own, and it went "down hill" from there. It was rare that anyone got the best of Dave when it came to quick responses. My friend still recalls that encounter with humor and reminds me of it on a regular basis.

Through the years, I consulted with Dave at Kendall Insurance, since I was involved in an organization which did business with that firm. He was invariably helpful and courteous. I have missed seeing Dave at the Post Office since the last stages of his final illness, but will not forget his humor and the memorable service that so eloquently celebrated his life.

WHAT IS CULTURAL TOURISM?

To the Editor:

What is Cultural Tourism? The 1995 White House Conference on Travel and Tourism defined it as "travel directed toward experiencing the arts, heritage, and special character of a place."

However you define this phenomenon, cultural tourism is big business. According to industry statistics, by 2010 tourism will be the world's largest industry. In Maine, tourism currently generates more than $200 million a year in state and local tax revenues. Whether in Maine or world wide, cultural tourism is the fastest growing sector of the tourism industry.

The cultural tourist tends to be older, better educated and more affluent than conventional tourists. When they visit an area they tend to stay longer, spend more and they like to travel in the off-season to avoid crowds.

Cultural tourists seek out the heritage and creativity of a locale. They patronize museums, arts and crafts outlets, dance, music and theatrical performances. Cultural tourists enjoy local fairs and festivals. They visit historic sites, are curious about locally produced literature and want to try locally raised foods. A cultural tourist wants to get off the highway and away from the predictability of cookie-cutter vacations. They want to find out-of-the-way locales with unique and authentic experiences that aren't available in any other location.

Along with seasonal residents, cultural tourists form a major audience for scenic byways. Tourists rate byways at the top of attractions. In 2005, Maine Tourism received almost 16,000 requests for information about Maine's designated byways; the second most common request after sightseeing.

Western Maine has a lot to offer cultural tourists. The Western Maine Cultural Alliance produced a cultural map of 24 towns that is available at chamber offices as well as tourism and cultural outlets. It provides a framework and contact information for the cultural visitor to develop their own explorations and adventures. If byways designation were attained, we could market directly to these people whose visits would stimulate capacity building in the area of arts and culture.

For more information about this program, come to a meeting on Wednesday, May 10, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Trustees Auditorium at Gould Academy in Bethel.

In later years, he said, "Doctor Sherm Greenleaf and his two sons, John and Eldon, and God knows how many other people in the family were involved."

But still, Howe said, before going ahead with the decision, "we want to make sure there's nothing out there we missed."

The board opted to have Town Manager Scott Cole draft a resolution, which they will take up at their April 17 meeting.

"If we don't hear anything really negative, we'll take a vote at that time," said Selectman Dennis Doyon.

Feelings can run strong

The board faced a somewhat similar situation in 2004, when it came time to dedicate the new fire station.

Fire Chief Jim Young wrote the board saying that past firefighters and family members of Roderick "Mush" McMillin, who served as fire chief from 1957 to 1967, had asked that the station be named for him.

But the board initially put off a decision, opting to place an advertisement in The Citizen seeking public input.

That move prompted McMillin's nephew Delma to write a letter to the editor accusing the board of various follies, and concluding: "If the town doesn't name the new fire station after Mush, then the town of Bethel can go to hell."

The station was ultimately dedicated to all members of the Fire Department, past and present.

been involved in a wide variety of plays, from elementary through high school, including "West Side Story," "Oliver," and "1776." She herself played a supporting role in a production of "Oklahoma."

Arizzi chose plays for the Senior Players largely by searching the Internet. Most are comedies and last approximately 10 minutes, but the May performance will conclude with the 25-minute dramatic play, "John Brown's Body."

Hoeh described her own motivation: "I joined because I've always been a frustrated actress, ever since I was in a French version of 'Joan of Arc' in Sixth Grade. I dabbled in drama in college, but that was the end of it, unless you count all the drama one puts and developed as actors. Several practice presentations are planned before the May 21 show.

Last week, three of the players performed "Valley Forge" for the Bethel Rotary Club. On April 12, "Widows" was presented at the Bethel Senior Citizen's monthly meeting, and on April 20, "Canker Sores" and "Save Me a Place at Forest Lawn" are scheduled for the Senior College Tea.

The May 21 performance will take place at the McLaughlin Center at Gould Academy, beginning at 2:30 p.m. Admission is free.

Otten plans Newry subdivision

NEWRY — A public informational meeting is scheduled for Monday at the Phoenix House Restaurant on a subdivision proposed by Les Otten. The property is located on the Sunday River Road, approximately a half mile north of the Sunday River Fire Station. The project would include 70 residential lots on approximately 173 acres. The project will be reviewed by the Newry Planning Board and by the Maine Department of Environmental Protection. The meeting starts at 6 p.m.

Board approves Region 9 budget

MEXICO — On Tuesday, the Region 9 board approved its vocational secondary and adult and community education budgets for next year. The vocational budget is $1,216,421, up about 5 percent. The budgets will go to referendum May 16. A public hearing is scheduled for tonight (Thursday) at 5:30 p.m. at Telstar High School.

Chase's home broken into GREENWOOD — Aaron S. Heath, 18, from Hebron has been charged with burglary and theft after a break-in at the home of Everett Chase, 45, is currently in the Oxford County Jail, charged with kidnapping and terrorizing his wife, and leading police on a chase in February. In recent weeks, tools and equipment were taken from his home. There are also other suspects in the burglary case, according to police.

Fireworks start forest fire

SUMNER — A hiker has been charged with causing a fire that burned 9.2 acres off the Black Mountain Road Tuesday. Four hikers celebrated a hike up the mountain by setting off two Roman candles. They tried unsuccessfully to put the fire out themselves. Firefighters from Sumner, Woodstock, West Paris, Buckfield, Peru and Canton fought the afternoon fire, which was out by about 6 p.m. A Maine Forest Service spokesman said the hiker, whose name was not disclosed, could be asked to pay the cost of the firefighting effort.

Spiritual Book Group

BETHEL — The Western Maine Holistic Health Council is sponsoring a monthly "Spiritual Book Group." Meetings will be held on the third Wednesday of each month. The first discussion will occur on May 17 at the Root Cellar, 57 Main Street in Bethel, at 7 p.m. On May 17, participants will discuss Dr. Michael Newton's book, "Journey of Souls." On June 21, an ongoing discussion of "The Celestine Prophecy" by James Redfield will begin. A complete book list is available at Books N Things, Brushfire Books, the Bethel Public Library and SpiritWings in Bethel. For more information, call 824-2204.

Brush Dump opening soon

AUGUSTA —The Greenwood-Woodstock Brush Dump, on Route 219 in Greenwood City, will open on Wednesday, April 26. Hours will be Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Any Greenwood or Woodstock resident interested in purchasing a compost bin for $25 may contact the Greenwood Town Office, to be placed on the sign-up list. Compost bins will be arriving in June.

Pathway

THE BETHEL PATHWAY EXTENSION is planned to run under the recreation and highway bridges, then along the northern Androscoggin riverbank (far shore) for approximately 1,800 feet, before turning out to the North Road. The extension will eliminate the need for young bicyclists riding between Bethel Village and Angevine Park to cross busy routes 2/26. (Photo: M. Daniels)

$47,000, but Trails Committee member Jeff Parsons said his group was optimistic the paving could be completed with the lesser amount.

The grant program calls for a local contribution equal to 25 percent of the grant amount.

That amount has already been promised in "in-kind" work, Parsons said.

The most significant obstacle to the project at this point, he said, appears to be the required archeological survey.

If the survey indicates the presence of a significant archeological site along the riverbank some accommodation to it will be necessary.

He said, however, he was optimistic the work could be completed this summer.

Signage and fencing along the new pathway will be consistent with that already in place on the existing pathway, Parsons said.

For now: cut across BIG

While the paved extension will make it easier for pathway users to reach the North Road, they can already do so without the need to cross through highway traffic.

A smooth gravel path currently extends from the end of the pathway pavement back under the two bridges.

At that point the path disappears, but Bill Dunton said pathway users are welcomed to cut through the Big Adventure field and parking lot.

He asks only that users exercise caution and good judgment when passing through the parking lot.

York have resulted in lower initial mortality, longer duration fisheries and higher hold-over.

Although a common practice on smaller New England rivers, float stocking in Maine is in its infancy.

Such stockings have taken place on the middle Kennebec and — for the first time, last year — on the upper Androscoggin.

Fifty years ago the Androscoggin River from Berlin, N.H., to its confluence with the Kennebec was one of the top ten most polluted rivers in the United States.

Today, thanks to environmental cleanup by federal, state and municipal agencies, the upper Androscoggin is an emerging angling destination.

The cleanup has allowed the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries & Wildlife to implement an aggressive recovery program. Brown trout are liberally stocked. To supplement

NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE

Please take notice that Sunday River Skiway Corp. PO Box 450 Bethel, Me. 04217 207-824-3000 is intending to file a Site Location of Development Act permit application with the Maine Department of Environmental Protection pursuant to the provisions of 38 M.R.S.A. § § 481 thru 490 on or about April 3rd.

The application is for a 36 Unit residential condominium development adjacent to the Tempest Ski Trail, which is located in the White Cap Base area of Sunday River Ski resort.

A request for a public hearing or a request that the Board of Environmental assume jurisdiction over this application must be received by the Department, in writing, no later than 20 days after the application is found by the Department to be complete and is accepted for processing. A public hearing may or may not be held at the discretion of the Commissioner or Board of Environmental Protection. Public comment on the application will be accepted throughout the processing of the application.

The application will be filed for public inspection at the Department of Environmental Protection's office in Portland during normal working hours. A copy of the application may also be seen at the municipal offices in Newry, Maine.

Written public comments may be sent to the Department of Environmental Protection, Bureau of Land and Water Quality, 17 State House Station, Augusta, Maine 04333-0017.

In our back yard:

Raingardens

Have you wanted to create a new, attractive, colorful garden on your property? Are you looking for one more reason to get motivated? Well, it turns out that certain types of gardens can actually improve the environmental-friendliness of your property.

Let me start with some background first. Structures like rooftops, driveways, roads, and parking lots alter the "water cycle" on home and business properties. These hard surfaces reduce the amount of rain or snowmelt that soaks into the ground. Instead, that water is immediately converted to stormwater runoff. That creates two problems. The runoff can pick up pollutants (eroded soil, lawn fertilizer, oils and gas from leaky vehicles, pet waste, etc.) as it flows downhill to our favorite river or lake. Second, the quantity increases. The volume of runoff is much larger and it flows more quickly than on a vegetated surface, which can cause more erosion and damage aquatic habitats.

So, back to how certain types of gardens can help minimize the problems just described. Raingardens are a landscaping technique that many homeowners can use. These gardens are designed and located to capture runoff from roofs, driveways, and other hard structures. They help this excess water soak into the ground rather than flow into ditches, storm drains and eventually into a local stream, pond or estuary.

Raingardens are often located in depressions (existing or created) on your property, so that stormwater will be collected and slowly soak into the ground. Of course if water is going to temporarily pond, plant selection becomes critical. Using plants, shrubs, and trees that can tolerate soil conditions which occasionally are very wet, or salty (due to winter salting), can help ensure raingarden success.

To build your raingarden, consult a local nursery or landscaper, or visit the Internet or library for more information. To get started, check out these useful websites: www.raingardens.org and clean-water.uwex.edu/pubs/raingarden/.

Whenever possible, plant native species. Natives are hardy and you do not risk bringing in more invasive species to Maine. For more information, see "Gardening to Conserve Maine's Landscape: Plants to Use and Plants to Avoid," which is available on the Web at www.umext.maine.edu/publications/homegarden.htm. Raingardens are a new tool in our efforts to keep Maine's waters clean and part of a new way of thinking about stormwater issues. It is all part of a movement called "low-impact development" or LID. Alternatively, it could be called "low-impact landscaping." Other tools include: planting or maintaining vegetative areas next to waterways to act as a sponge for stormwater runoff and provide shade to keep waters cool; rain barrels to collect roof runoff; bioretention systems in parking lots (essentially engineered raingardens); green (vegetated) roofs, and pervious parking lot materials, etc.

More information on LID can be found on the Web at www.epa.gov/owow/ups/lid/lidlit.html.

From the Maine Department of Environmental Protection. This week's column was submitted by Jeff Varrichione, a biologist with the DEP's Division of Watershed Management.

PUBLIC HEARING

Pursuant to Title 28 MRSA 252 -- a notice is hereby given that a Public Hearing will be held on April 17, 2006 at the Bethel Town Office to consider a Liquor License renewal from S.S. That 20 inches of the white stuff which fell in the past week is melting fast. Mud season is in full swing. Boots are to be left on the porch and "Poochie" must have a thorough wipe down before entering a dwelling.

The ice on the lake is diminishing. "Ice Out" should be early and soon. The bets are out on "Ice Out" date. There is a shortage of water due to the moderately dry winter.

The "Snow Birds" are returning from "Down South." Margaret and Bob Dapolito have returned. Joy Yarnell has returned from a two-week vacation with her daughter, Betsy, and her granddaughter. She is sporting a fine Florida tan of course. Joan and Dave Miller have returned from a trip to Morocco with an Elder Hostel group.

The snowmobiles have been serviced and stored for the season. It wasn't a great season. Snow was scarce. The folks are now preparing for fishing season. Lines and reels are ready and boats will not be far behind.

While talking to Ginny Williamson she said she had a sandhill crane family on her property in Florida. Mom, dad and two little ones have been visiting.

While visiting in Florida this winter, Ginny has had lots of company. Her daughter, Diane, grandchildren and great-grandchildren visited. Her two brother-in-laws, Nelson Hood and Raymond Moulton also spent most of the winter in Lake Wales.

Four to five inches of heavy, wet snow gave us a belated

April Fool's gift on April 4. Mixed in with some sleet, it soon became a crusty mess, but was very soon on its way to oblivion, as warm daytime temperatures reduced it to little piles here and there. Once again, the daffodils are pushing their way through the remaining drifts, and the front yard shows signs of greening up.

Jake and I heard the protracted, merry call of a winter wren on our walk Monday morning. The sun was shining brightly at 7 a.m., and spring was definitely in the air, even though the roadbed was still frozen at that hour. By afternoon it is usually pretty mushy.

ranch, the birdfeeders have been a hub of activity. One male redwing was on the ground the other day, along with myriad juncos and the occasional fox sparrow. On the hanging feeders we've been hosting goldfinches, pine siskins, and purple finches. (Also, red squirrels!) The phoebe are in full song as they seek nesting sites. Mike saw some birds scouting the bluebird houses but wasn't able to determine if they were indeed bluebirds or tree swallows.

Lesley Rowse reports that the peregrine falcons are courting. She monitors their activities for the Forest Service and so knows all their nesting sites.

Pastor Aaron McNally of the Pleasant Valley Bible Church e-mailed us to introduce himself. He and his family arrived last May and have been enjoying West Bethel ever since. He notes that the church is planning some special services for Easter and announces the following: Sunrise Service at the Church 6:45 a.m., Morning Worship Service 10 a.m. All are welcome!

Over the weekend Mike and I celebrated our golden wedding anniversary. Our three daughters hosted a wonderful party for us around the theme, "Fifty Years of Fishing." Decorations, slide shows, and narratives all held to that theme, and we had a wonderful time. We are so proud of our progeny and their beautiful families. The grandchildren and their cousins, ranging in age from 7 to 16, were put to work waiting on people at the party and did a superb job. A great big thank you to all for a memorable event!

Hello readers. What a nice stretch of weather! I think the plow trucks have been out for the last time. Hopefully, there will be no snow for the Egg Hunt on Saturday. (Many a year the infamous rabbit and her helpers have trudged through snow in preparation for the hunt!)

Parents and kids — don't forget about the annual Easter Egg Hunt, starting at 9 a.m. in front of Mill's store. — preschool through sixth grade.

Three local snowmobile club members have enjoyed several days at St. Agatha in Aroostock County. That area had received a lot of snow so trails were excellent. Making the trip were Cookie and George Thew, Richard and Carolyn Merrill and Hallie and Wendy Hutchins.

Jennifer Swain, daughter of Rodney and Kim Swain, Jericho, Vt., and granddaughter of Robert and Violet Swain, is a volunteer at Echo Animal Care Center. Her demonstrations to young people involve "Bud," a black rat snake. She wraps him two or three times around her wrist. "Bud" acted up and is now in behavior modification training. Jennifer graduates from Mt. Mansfield High in June.

Douglas "Freddie" Bailey, a junior at Colby College, is one of five young men selected to train at Lake Placid this summer, on their racing facilities. He was a runner at Telstar and also at Colby. Freddie hopes to qualify for the Olympics. He said wouldn't it be nice for Andover to get a medal! Freddie is the son of Brian and Beverly Bailey.

On March 25, Cabot Lodge 117, Knights of Pythias dedicated a chair lift installed at the Town Hall in memory of Harold "Buster" Falkenham, who was a longtime member of the lodge. The Pythian brothers purchased the chair lift and donated it to the Town Hall. Thank you to the Cabot Lodge of Andover.

Edith Russell and Maggie Farrington, former residents of Elderwood Manor in Andover, have moved to Rumford.

East Andover lost their oldest resident, Edna White, 95, on April 3. She was the holder of the Boston Post Cane. Edna will be missed by her "Bean" friends. She traveled with them until loss of eyesight. She played the piano at the Calvary Bible Church and was superintendent of the East Andover Sunday School in the 1950s. She was a charter member of the East Andover Community Club. Sympathy is extended to her two sons, Ronald and Russell, her sister, Elsie, and their families. She loved her home where her son Ronald lived with her. She wanted to "go home" from Ledgeview where she spent her final days. Relatives and friends from Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Virginia, Pennsylvania, and many towns in Maine attended the funeral service on April 6. Pastor Duane Waite conducted the service.

Happy birthday wishes to: Kissy Anastasio (today), Elijah Salatin (on the 14th), Owen Barter (on the 16th), Zoey Perham (on the 17th), and Amy Jane Mahar (on Tuesday, the 18th).

Mike and Sandra Clement spent four days last week in Ashford, Conn., visiting with their daughter, Kristi Halloran and her husband and their kids.

Karen Vachon was here for three days visiting with her parents, Roger and Dottie. Karen and her husband live in Brookfield, N.H. She had a good time relaxing in her old home town — good old Andover, Maine!

Next week is school vacation week. Enjoy!

Twenty-eight people enjoyed the Senior Citizen dinner and program put on by Susan Sweetser on Thursday, April 6.

Robert Hoyt visited his parents, Alice and Ken, on Thursday and took home his dog, who has been visiting there while he was in California on business.

News from Mrs. Nieberle: A story featured on the front page of The Advertiser was about the triplet grandchildren of Bill and Patti Coolidge of Bryant Pond. The triplets, Justin, Bradley and Alexis are one year old. The Coolidge's daughter is Alicia who married Jason Richards. They reside in West Paris. Jason works for Schiavi Homes. Jason's parents are from Norway. Bill Coolidge owns Bill's Auto in West Paris.

Mrs. Nieberle went to Ellie's Ladies Workout express recently. It is owned by Ellie Andrews. It was good, easy, quick and lots of extras with weights, bands and other workout classes besides the machines. Clean and pleasant workout place. Ellie is extremely outgoing and friendly. Her helper, Amanda, was also very nice. Ellie is from Bryant Pond but her Express place is in Bethel.

Karen Yarasitis says the skiing at Sunday River is still great with beautiful spring skiing. Karen just returned from skiing in Utah last week.

The Nieberle's pond is open and their domestic geese are out swimming. Canada geese and some ducks are sharing the pond, also. The pond is open two weeks earlier than last year.

Curator Larry Billings has set up a spring planting exhibit at the Historical Society Museum. He has various exhibits throughout the year. He will keep you posted.

The Historical Society Museum has many books analyzing antiques. You can look up yours there. Many members can tell you something about them as well. After all, antiques are the real artifacts of the past. Larry Billings watched a program on sculptor Henry Moore. The Historical Museum has an art deco sculpture and the bust of Lincoln near the entrance, also, a sculpture of the praying hands. The museum is a treasure trove of art and antiques. We are very fortunate in Woodstock.

Larry's New England Cultural Center now has an antique shop of select items in it. These are to look at but not for sale. Remember the Woodstock Historical Society Museum is an extraordinary place.

Hi readers. How are you this week? Are you keeping busy?

Frances Grant and I have had fun going to the new Hanford's in Bridgton shopping these last two weeks on a Saturday. She uses the motorized cart and I use the cute little three-tiered cart. You would not think it would hold so much but when I got to the cash register I found out that it did hold a lot. I guess I loaded it. Anyway, we will miss that coupon for $10 off a $30 order. All good things come to an end, they say. I wish they would do that gimmick again.

On Monday, Frances Grant and I went to Norway and got three cheeseburgers and coffees from the Norway Lake Store (they are/were) good and we had an inside picnic party with Wilma Knox Taylor at the Norway Rehab. and Living Center. This was to celebrate Wilma's 82nd birthday. We all enjoyed that and plan to do it again.

The Friendly Senior Citizens met Wednesday, April 5, at 11:30 a.m. for their first luncheon meeting of the year at the North Waterford Church vestry.

The secretary's report was read and accepted. The treasurer was absent. (Hope you are feeling better, Marge.) We welcomed three new members: Barbara Sanborn, Dot Trembley and Arlene Beardsley. Mildred Davis won the raffle.

It was voted to meet for lunch and a short meeting next month at A.J.'s in Stoneham on May 3 at 11:30 a.m., and members who would like please bring in an empty pretty little May Basket for the club to fill and to be delivered to shut-ins or elderly that they know. We did that one year and it was kind of fun and appreciated by the recipients.

Under new business nomination of officers was done and Marge Nihan was elected as secretary, Marge Kimball as treasurer, and myself as president, but I resigned that post and Barbara Sanborn was nominated and elected to be the new president. Thanks, Barbara. I have enjoyed being it for two years and hope and expect you will, too. This is an awfully nice group to meet with and work with.

After the meeting, Viola McAllister and Kathy Lorraine served a nice Easter ham and veggies dinner. Mildred Davis won the raffle. I believe there were about 33 people there.

Dale and Kitty Nelson were out this past weekend and took our rubbish to the dump (excuse me, to the Transfer Station).

Oh yes, we had smelts already. Thanks, Troy. They were awfully good.

Next meeting of Oxford County Republicans will be May 9 at the Wilkins House in Waterford.

On April 20 a meeting is planned, for members, neighbors and friends of the Stoneham Church, at the Stoneham Community Room at the Fire Station to discuss and bring forth suggestions on how to keep the church open. They need help. Let us see what we can do. There are over 200 people in town. April 20 at 7 p.m. — hope to see you there.

have news for the column, many thanks.

The full moon tonight ushers in the Easter and Pass-over season. From Palm Sunday through several weeks Christians and Hebrews will be celebrating the religious festivities with services and family get-togethers.

School vacations are the week following Easter Sunday, and drivers should be aware that there may be more children near the highways.

News from the Town Office: Patriots Day is a holiday in Maine and a reminder that the office will be closed on that day, which is celebrated Monday, April 17. The Board of Selectmen meets on the first and third Monday of each month; the Planning Board meets on the first and third Wednesday of each month. Their agendas are posted at the Town Office. If you need more information about these meetings you may call the office at 824-3123. All meetings at the Town Office are open to the public.

ford Point and Hanover area when an automobile crashed into a utility pole in the area of Gordon Avenue in Rumford. Live wires lying in the road hampered responders' efforts and Route 2 was closed for the six-hour duration.

Another accident occurred during the snowstorm on Tuesday, April 4, when a van from a courier service in Portland lost control and rolled over into Hanover Cemetery knocking over several gravestones. The driver received non-life threatening injuries and was taken by Med-Care Ambulance to the Rumford Hospital. Rumford Fire Department and Oxford County Sheriff's Department also responded.

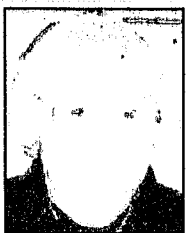

The Hanover Planning Board met on April 5. The board approved the construction of a residence on Ferry Road and decided to have a site walk at a Howard Pond location where an application for a new house is pending. The site walk is scheduled for April 19, at 6:30 p.m. on South Shore Road, followed at 7 p.m. at the Hanover Town Office, to receive a preliminary application for a site plan review for a business development on Ferry Road.

The Hanover Select Board will meet on Tuesday, April 18, at the Town Office for their monthly meeting.

E-mail to the Hanover Town Office is temporarily out of service due to technical difficulties. Some work has been done on the Hanover website and a visit to www.hanoverme.org will show the changes.

Several people from Hanover attended the Maine Country Music Pioneer show at Augusta, on Sunday, April 2. Joan Tucker attended, as her brother, Ira Allen, entertained and was highlighted with special honors. Bob and Elsie Fortin also attended.

Winter is still with us. The wind blows cold every day. Each morning as the white-headed ladies walk their two miles it is with a bitter wind. After the snow and rain storm overnight Wednesday, we all agreed it was too slippery and dangerous to walk. Hopefully there will be sunny non-windy days soon.

On Easter Sunday, April 16, Joseph Perham will lead the Sunrise Service at 6 a.m. on the top of High Street at the end of Perham Road at the home of Ray and Mary Ann Brown. Easter breakfast will follow at the West Paris Universalist Church. There will be no 9 a.m. service.

Dora Glueck of Winterport, formerly of Oxford, celebrated her 90th birthday on April 2 with a party. Many friends and relatives were there to congratulate her. I attended with Jeanne Whittemore, Wayne and Berdina and Chris Whittemore. She received many cards and gifts. Refreshments were served including a beautiful, large birthday cake. It was a sunny, pleasant ride to her home.

Ledgeview Nursing Home is now open for visitors and activities. The flu and colds have subsided with things returning to normal. I have missed visiting the residents, for I help with the bingo games once a week.

On Thursday, I visited with Dorothy Christie in Gray. We enjoyed lunch at Cole Farms Restaurant.

My brother, Glendon Allen of Buckfield, is at Stephens Memorial Hospital where he had surgery for a blocked colon. All is going well and he should be home this week. He and his wife, Lucille, did have a good winter in Florida returning only two weeks ago.

The craft group of the Universalist Church has tied the quilt and it is ready to raffle off.

Son Ken and grandson Kyle will look after Buffy and the house while I fly around the country. The first stop is Santa Fe, N.M. to visit Allen and Myrna Lamb. Next week I will write this column from there.

Hopefully, Buffy won't be too lonesome at night for he usually sleeps on the foot of my bed. Ken and Kyle will take good care of him.

Tuesday morning last week, Mona and I left home early on a trip to the Midwest to visit kids and grandkids. As we left home at about 5:30 a.m., it was snowing lightly, and there was already about two inches of white stuff on the ground. We headed west on Route 2, and the snow turned to all rain by the time we reached Jefferson, N.H.

At St. Johnsbury, Vt., we headed south on I-91, with only light rain to contend with. We headed over the Vermont Mountains on Route 4 at White River Junction, intending to hit I-87 at St. George, N.Y. It began snowing shortly after we left I-91, and by the time we made Killington Ski Area, near the top of the mountain pass before you get to Rutland, there was a good two inches of very wet, slippery snow.

As we rounded a bend on a fairly steep slope nearing the summit, all uphill traffic was stopped, with several semi-trailer trucks unable to get traction. We sat there for some time waiting for snowplows, and some trucks were finally able to get going, but we weren't! I gently spun the tires and made slight progress for a short distance, but without four-wheel drive, it was hopeless. I jiggled around and got headed back down hill at a full 20 to 25 mph behind a UPS truck.

We backtracked some 30 miles to I-91 and headed south to Connecticut, where we turned westbound on I-84 on clear roads and sunshine. We made good time and made Hazleton, Pa., by 6 p.m.

Next morning we were up at 5:30 a.m. and were on the road before 6. There was about an inch of snow on our pickup, but none on the roads. We had to head north about four miles on I-81 to pick up I-80 westbound. About two miles before reaching I-80, we drove into near whiteout conditions and slowed to about 25 mph to maintain traction and some visibility. Before we had gone 10 miles west on I-80, there was three or four inches of heavy, wet snow on the interstate, and the passing lane was nearly impassable, although a few trucks and other vehicles in a hurry that couldn't stand to stay behind the 30-mph vehicles in the right travel lane. We started passing vehicles that had spun out and landed in the ditches, some of them pretty badly dented.

I vowed to pull off at the first exit advertising a McDonald's restaurant where we could eat a leisurely breakfast and wait for better driving conditions. About 15 miles later, we found one and exited; by then the snow was not coming down so fast, and the travel lane was only wet and only slightly covered with slush. At McDonald's, I talked to several truck drivers headed east and learned that travel to the west wasn't nearly as bad as what we had been through. As we headed west later, we heard a radio announcement that many vehicles were off the roads in the Hazleton, Pa., area and I-80 was closed there. Aside from slush and a few icy spots, the travel improved as we headed west, and by Ohio, we were in sunshine.

We were in Mahomet, Ill., at my daughter Cheryl's by 9 p.m. that evening. Grandson Jacob and his sisters, Jessica and Jana, love Snuffy and had a great time letting him take them for walks around the neighborhood. Their cat, Lilo, though, had other ideas. She would sit by a window, stare at Snuffy (outside), arch her back and growl.

We learned something interesting about cell phones and Illinois while we were there. Apparently, the cell phone companies use some different technology in Illinois than in other places. Our cell phone, with US Cellular would not work there in roaming mode, even for people at a US Cellular phone place. That "ticked" us off, so we decided to try Tracfone. We went to Wal-Mart in Champaign where they sell about a dozen different "pre paid" cell phone contracts with different companies, including Tracfone. After talking to the saleslady, we agreed on a phone, with the provision that she could set it up with Maine as the home contract area. No luck. The phones they had there will not work in Maine. Guess we'll try again after we get home.

Again, I would like to ask my neighbors to let me know if you have any news for the column. I write it on Sunday and e-mail it late that evening. It would take you just a few minutes to let me know, but it would take me hours to call everyone to look for news. It is the simple things that make the column interesting to read: relatives that came to visit, birthday parties, trips that you take, etc. I need your help to make the column continue.

I just thought the residents of Gilead would like to know that part of the town is being relocated to West Bethel. The large pile of dirt that is accumulating in the lot on Route 2 in West Bethel is coming from across from Steve McLain's house on the Bethel/Gilead line. Construction on this section of Route 2 will begin sometime this summer.

There have been a lot of trees cut to make way for the new road also.

I read a thank you in the Citizen from Joe and Freda Gaudreau for all the kindness they have received since his surgery and hospital stay. Since they are Gilead residents from the Bog Road, I would like to include them in the column and wish a speedy recovery to Joe also.

Historical Society

The newsletter is finally done and ready to be mailed out to the members. The feature article is "Gilead Dams and Mills" in the 1800s. There were several in Gilead and a lot of them relied on the small brooks to bring the logs down off the mountains. A quote from the article goes as follows:

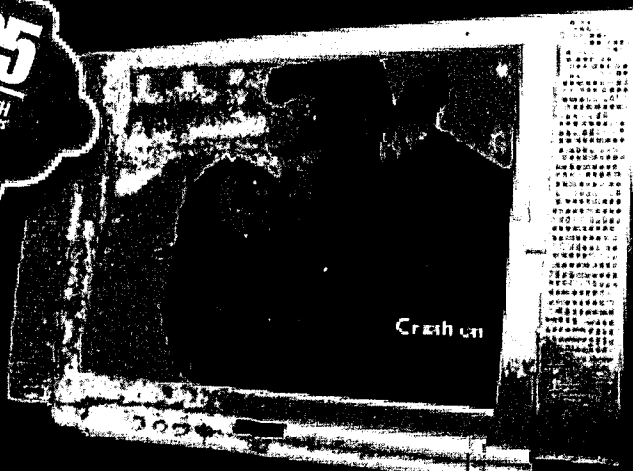

"Almost all of the brooks, on both sides of the Androscoggin, had dams and holding ponds. Many of these brooks were small enough to jump across. This was overcome by allowing the pond to fill at night, and then using the water to power a mill during the daytime. Some of these brooks like Lary and Wight's brooks had a series of dams and holding ponds which could be released one after another, so as to create a large head of water for log driving."

RE: APPLICATION FOR NEW LICENSE FOR HYDROELECTRIC POWER PROJECT

The State of Maine hereby provides notice that F & B Wood Corp., has filed an application with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) for a new hydroelectric power generation license (5-MW exemption) for the existing Corveau Hydroelectric Project (FERC Docket number P-12629-000) (Corveau Project).

Project description: The Corveau Project is located on the Swift River, near the town of Mexico, Oxford County, Maine, and consists of the following existing facilities: (1) the 1500-foot-long by 9-foot-high dam; (2) a 2 acre reservoir (3) a 125 long in-take channel; (4) a powerhouse containing three generating units with total installed generating capacity of 350 kilowatts (kW); and (5) appurtenant facilities. The restored project would have an average annual generation of 1,306,900 kilowatt-hours. The applicant owns the dam and existing project facilities. A copy of the application and other related documents filed with FERC are available for review: 1) on-line at <http://www.ferc.gov> using the "eLibrary link" (enter the docket number excluding the last three digits in the docket number field to access the document); and 2) at the Maine Department of Environmental Protection (DEP), 28 Tyson Drive - Ray Building, Augusta, ME 04333.

Intervention; comments to FERC: The deadline for filing motions to intervene and protests with FERC is May 19, 2006. All documents (original and eight copies) should be filed with: Magalie R. Salas, Secretary, Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 888 First Street, NE, Washington, DC 20426. Motions to intervene, comments and protests must be filed in accordance with FERC's procedural rules. See 18 CFR 385.2001 - 385.2005. Filings may be made electronically via the Internet. See CFR 385.2001 (a)(1)(iii) and the instructions on the Commission's web site (<http://www.ferc.gov>) under the "eFiling" link.

Procedural schedule: FERC established the following review schedule, which is subject to revision by FERC as appropriate. In July 2006, FERC staff proposes to issue a NOI of availability of its Environmental Assessment (EA), with a 30 day public comment period. Following notice and consideration of comments received, FERC staff will make the application ready for decision by the Commission in September 2006.

On-going project status information; comments to state agencies: The State has established a website (<http://www.maineenergyinfo.com/spo/hydro/hydroinfo.html>) as its primary means of providing project status information and identifying contacts at state agencies participating in the FERC process to whom members of the public may wish to submit comments regarding requirements that state agencies may be placing upon the license applicant and the plans, studies, terms and conditions they are recommending to FERC for inclusion in the license. Interested parties may wish to consult this website to identify project status and public participation opportunities.

Contacts for additional information: FERC contact: Michael Spencer, (202) 502-6093; michael.spencer@ferc.gov; State contact: Betsy Elder, State Hydropower Coordinator, 18 State House Station, Augusta ME 04333; (207) 287-8927; betsy.elder@maine.gov; and Applicant contact: James D. Sysko, Small Hydro East, 524 Jim's Drive, Newry, ME 04261; 207-824-3244

Esther Wilson, Grace Gibson and Jackie Libby were in Portland on April 9 visiting Vicki Wilson and her family plus attending a birthday party for Vicki's grandson.

Judy Smith of Surry visited Arlene Harrington on April 1 and 2. Right after Judy left, Arlene went to Durham to visit Dori Hallman and her family, coming back on April 3.

Ann Morton of Woodstock picked up her mother, Florence Hastings, for a visit to see her doctor in Norway. Of course it had to be April 4 with snow, sleet and rain for the drive down and back.

I noticed that Albert Foster had his maple syrup crew there cooking down the sap. The weather was not what I would call good sap-running weather, but they were busy for about a week.

There will be a cemetery meeting on May 1. More info on this later.

Alder River Grange will meet on April 14 at the Grange Hall. We will be back to our summer hours with a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m. and the meeting at 7:30 p.m.

If you have any news, give me a ring at 824-3350.

It sounds like we should be having a nice week, so have a nice week everyone. God Bless the Troops.

I wish her a speedy recovery. Joe Pete Appleby came by a couple times for a visit. He always has a story to tell. Love to see him.

Patrice Dunn, my niece, has returned to Loma Linda, Calif., after being in Maine after her mother, Evelyn Dunn's death. Hated to see her go back. She'll be back sometime this summer.

My three cats are getting along better every day. They mostly sleep. Suzi has been sick and had to go to the vet, but is better now. I enjoy them a lot. Shauna, our newest cat, loves to watch red squirrels at the feeder outside our kitchen window. She gets so excited it's fun to watch.

I hated to see the snowstorm this past week. It was extremely slippery and caused many accidents. It's hard to take after such a mild winter.

Kellie, my daughter, visited Sunday. She does her laundry here sometimes. I really enjoy her company. She sometimes brings her grandson, Landon, with her.

Quote of the week: "I've learned that you should never make fun of people who speak broken English. It means they know another language."

It's spring, but it sure feels cold in the mornings. The temperature seems to hover at 20 degrees, unless it is colder. The weather forecasters keep telling us it is going to be warm and sunny; it gets sunny, but warm is a very big stretch.

I don't know if anyone else saw the "Ten Commandments" on Monday and Tuesday. It wasn't the old film, but it was interesting to see that Channel 8 (ABC) chose to show it this week. I do not believe that I ever realized before that it is the story of Passover. This week commemorates that story as we celebrate the Passover Holiday. Today, Thursday, is the second night. The holiday celebrates the deliverance of the Jewish people from slavery in Egypt. It is the time of year that we eat matzoh or unleavened bread because there was no time to leaven the bread as they fled from Egypt.

Other than Passover seders (feasts) this week, there are many Easter events also.

Woodstock Library News: Thursday, April 13, at 10 a.m.

Frank Perham will be the guest speaker on gems and minerals focusing on the history of mineral mining in the Oxford Hills area. The program is open to the public. Light refreshments will be served. Hope to see you. There is no charge.

Zack, our great-grandson turned seven years old on April 4. He's in the first grade at Sabbatus Elementary School. I called him and wished him a happy birthday; we'll be having a party for him this weekend.

Our neighbor, Frances House, has been sick and in Stephens Memorial Hospital.

There is the now traditional Sunrise Service at Sunday River Ski Resort. For more information, call 824-3000. I always wanted to go because it was at the top of the mountain, but then I remember I'm afraid of heights. Not good.

This Thursday, there are several celebrations. There is a Maundy Thursday celebration at the Waterford Congregational Church on Plum Hill. There is a Holy Thursday Service at St. Catherine of Sienna in Norway on Main Street, also at 7 p.m. And there is a Maundy Thursday Service and Seder Meal at Poland Community Church. That one is hosted by Ira and Laurie Levine and Lay Leader Dixie Piper. That is at the church on 1212 Maine Street (Route 26) in Poland. For more information, call 998-4227.

I have finally heard the peepers. That is a real sign of spring. I am just waiting for some flowers to bloom, here. We have no early spring flowers planted yet, maybe next year, so I wait the blooming of the lilacs soon.

I will finish this as the computer has already died once and lost what I wrote. Have a great week. Enjoy what warmth you can.

From the Roxbury ATV Riders

The regular monthly meeting of the Roxbury ATV Riders was held on March 31 at the home of Mike and Wanda Worthley.

NOTE: All ATV trails are closed until after mud season. Your trailmaster will let you know when you can ride the trails. It is extremely important that all ATV riders adhere to this request.

The club has received a donation of a bridge in Biddeford.

Through some other clubs and (we hope perhaps a grant), we will be able to get this bridge and place it over the Swift River between Mexico and Rumford.

The club continues to work with landowners for permission to use their lands. We feel we will soon have a trail from Frye to Roxbury, and Victor Peterson is working on getting a trail in to Newry.

We are going to have our trails GPS'd again and then we will see about getting maps printed for these trails.

We need club members to think about volunteering for our upcoming poker runs during Memorial Weekend and Labor Day Weekend. Jane Ryerson is working on a ride for the upcoming Mollycoddett Day. We would like to have club members ride in the parade and then go on a club ride after the parade. More information to follow.

The club has long-sleeved sweatshirts and both short- and long-sleeved t-shirts for sale. Contact Mike or Wanda Worthley if you would like an order form.

Webb River Sports is sponsoring a "Shooting for Kids" program for ages 10-18. They are in need of donations of 22 long shells, ear headphones and mats to shoot from.

Matt Burnham suggested that in two years perhaps we could try and organize a Western Maine ATV Jamboree. Letters would be sent to clubs throughout the state. Different clubs could organize different events.

The Bethel summer tabloid is going to have a brief article on the Roxbury ATV Riders Club. Over 10,000 copies of this tabloid are produced and are located in many areas throughout the state.

ATV Maine is currently raffling off a 2006 Arctic Cat 500. Tickets are $5 apiece and you can get them from Mike or Wanda Worthley, Bill Morse and Dan Mitchell. They are also selling ATV Maine Calendars for the month of June, tickets are $10 and you can contact any one of the above. You have 30 chances to win when you buy one of these calendars.

The Roxbury ATV Club is currently still selling 50/50 raffle tickets — $1 apiece or six for $5. The pot continues to grow.

Bill Morse announced a few things that the Governor's Task Force is working on.

Please remember when reading the items, they have not passed. These are suggestions to bills being worked:

1) Annual fee for ATV registration be $60 for both residents and non-residents. If an individual can show proof that he is a member of a Maine group that is in good standing and recognized by the Department of Conservation as a non-profit entity maintaining ATV trails for public use, the registration fee would only be $30.

2) Review property access laws and land use issues regarding the operation of ATVs on private property. Title 12 10902 Suspension & Revocation Paragraph 9.

The advisory council unanimously and emphatically recommends no change to existing laws requiring landowner permission to operate an ATV on the land of another. They felt a lot of hard work has gone into educating both the clubs and landowners and it seems to be working well. They did suggest a change in "shall suspend" to "may suspend" and the addition of "for at least one year."

3) Review the state's current age restriction and modifications on the operation of ATVs.

First, require operators of ATVs under the age of 19 (up from 16) to take a safety course.

Second, change the age at which one may operate an ATV without being accompanied by an adult and cross a road on an ATV (a change from 16 to 14 years of age) has been suggested).

A person under the age of 16 years must attend a training program with that person's parent or guardian.

There were also some other age restrictions, where they upped the age in some items and reduced it in others.

For further information on these articles, you can go to www.atvmaine.org/ and click on Maine ATV Trail Advisory Council Report dated 2/1/06.

Meeting 50/50 was won by Jane Ryerson and door prizes were won by Alan Bodwell and David Sinclair.

Just a reminder: our meetings run approximately 60 minutes. We have over 150 members and would encourage you to attend a meeting to find out what is going on.

Once again: Trails are closed during mud season.

Information on several theater parties will also be available at the Member Tea and these include: "Almost Maine" by John Cariani on Sunday, April 30, at 2 p.m. at the Penobscot Theater, Bangor; "A Month of Sundays" by Bob Larbey on Sunday, May 7, at 2 p.m. at The Public Theater, Lewiston; Western Mountains Senior Players Performance on Sunday, May 21 at 2:30 p.m. at the McLaughlin Science Center of Gould Academy; Ida — that woman who runs with the moose, on Friday, June 9, at 7 p.m. at Gould Academy; and Reny's, the Musical on Sunday, June 25, at 2 p.m. at Deertrees Theatre, Harrison.

For more information or to register for courses by phone, call J. Cressy at 824-0508.

Art of Meditation

The Art of Meditation: Only a Breath Away, will be presented by Kevin Pennell, CHT, at Telstar High School, Bethel, on Tuesday, April 18, from 4 to 5:15 p.m. The program is part of the series, To Your Health, offered by Western Mountains Senior College and SAD44 Adult Education and open to the community. The program is free for Senior College members. Donations will be accepted at the door from nonmembers.

Pennell will explain meditation and discuss its purpose and benefits. He will introduce the basics of learning to quiet one's mind and body, the relaxation experience, stress reduction and how increased concentration may be achieved. A question and answer period will follow.

Those interested in further exploration of the meditation practice may wish to enroll in Pennell's follow-up course to be held on May 2, 9, 16 and 23 from 4-5 p.m. at Telstar High School as part of the Senior College's spring course offerings. Sign-ups for this course will be taken at the Western Mountains Senior College Member Tea on Thursday, April 20, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. at West Parish Congregational Church, Church Street, for members and potential members.

Instructor, Kevin Pennell, CHT, is a Reiki Master Teacher, Certified Hypnotherapist, Shamanic Practitioner and author.

For more information, contact Wendy Iseman at 824-8610.

From the

White Mountain National Forest

If you happened to be in Laconia, N.H., on April 6 and passed by the Opechee Park Track you may have noticed 65 determined adults walking a fast pace and carrying large backpacks. It probably appeared as if they were headed somewhere important, but on closer examination, they were actually going in circles around the Laconia Track. Each year, forest fire fighters need to be tested for physical fitness abilities. Line firefighters are required to pass this "work capacity test" which involves walking (no running allowed) three miles while carrying 45 pounds, and completing the test in under 45 minutes.

Each spring the U.S. Forest Service administers this test for approximately 100 White Mountain National Forest employees and cooperating firefighters.

These brave individuals will be available for local fires on the White Mountain National Forest, and to offer support to firefighting and disaster recovery efforts across the nation.

The U.S. Forest Service is thankful to the Laconia Department of Parks and Recreation for the use of the Laconia rubber track which is relatively gentle on folks' feet, even after 12 laps. As a precautionary measure, Laconia Fire Department was standing by with their ambulance and EMTs. The Laconia Fire Department also offered their restrooms to participants before the test, which was much appreciated. This annual event could not happen without the support of these key community services.

From the

Waterford Grange 479

April 2006 has been declared "Grange Month" and Waterford Grange 479 is inviting community members to learn more about our purpose, as well as our programs and activities. In addition, we will acknowledge the good works of a community citizen by presenting an outstanding individual with the "Grange Community Citizen Award."

Our open house and award ceremony will take place on April 24 at the Grange Hall on Valley Road just up from Melby's Store. Community members are invited to a spaghetti supper (donations will be accepted) to begin at 6:30 p.m., followed by an award ceremony at 7:30 p.m.

For 139 years the Grange has worked to advance the interest of rural Americans by providing a legislative voice for their political concerns and by showing them how to strengthen their neighborhoods through community service. During Grange Month we want the community to know that the Grange is a living organization that has a lot to offer.

The Grange not only provides fun-filled and educational programs and activities for its members, it also provides them with a forum to voice their political opinions. The Grange is a nonpartisan organization.

Grange members are given the opportunity to serve their neighborhoods through community service projects that make a difference in the lives of everyone. Our communities are constantly changing and each of us contributes to that change in some way.

The Waterford Grange will have a display set up at the Waterford Library during the month of April featuring the Knitting Club.

Maine and commercializing biomass conversion technologies. Christiansen has an 18-month grant from the DOE for a feasibility study to produce heating oil, diesel and biochemicals from wood. The program calls for an eventual 60 biorefineries, each using more than 700 tons of biomass/day. When done, the goal is that Maine will be more than 50 percent energy independent.

Kingsley, vice president of SWOAM, works with the biomass conversion of wood to electric energy and was lead researcher on a recent report on the production of liquid fuels from wood. Kingsley has clients in many states, including one biomass facility in Maine and several in other New England states and New York.

SWOAM meetings are free and open to all. Direct questions to Chapter President Bill Haynes at 583-2963 or forest@maine.com.

Listings in The Citizen's weekly Community Calendar are compiled from a wide variety of sources. While we do our utmost to ensure the reliability of the information presented here, we recognize that when dealing with such a large volume of material, some inaccuracies will occasionally creep in. And in other cases, a sponsoring organization's plans may change between the time The Citizen is printed and the event is held. Accordingly, we strongly urge our readers to call ahead to verify the details of any event they plan to attend. Doing so will greatly reduce the chance of disappointment or needless inconvenience.

Before Buying a Home!

Where do you start when you are ready to buy a home? Before you begin looking for a home, you have to make some decisions. You need to decide what is important to you when purchasing your home. Before starting out on your home search it is a good idea to sit down and develop a list of what is important and what would you like in your new home. Your list could include schools, neighborhood, amenities, number of bedrooms, number of bathrooms, a basement, a separate dining room, 2-story family room or foyer, one level ranch plan, master bedroom on the main level, special financing, seller willing to cover closing costs and the list goes on and on.

An experienced buyer real estate agent can help you through the process. There is no such thing as a perfect house, therefore once you have developed your list you should begin to prioritize it. You can prioritize into must-haves, should-haves and would-be-nice-to-haves. By having a clear understanding what you want in your new home, and the priority of those items, you will be in a much better position to decide whether you want to put an offer on a house you see and like. It is also a good idea to consider whether you want to purchase a new or pre-owned home.

Need a lift home?

Obituaries

GLENN E. THOMPSON

Glenn E. Thompson, 63, of East Bethel, passed away on Monday, April 3, 2006 after a courageous battle with cancer.

He was born on March 29, 1943, in Bridgton, the son of Erbon and Mildred (Moore) Thompson.

He took great pride in his work as a woodsman, truck driver and various positions at local wood mills.

He enjoyed the outdoors, country music, reading and watching movies. He was always happy meeting new people and making new friends. He loved animals, especially his dogs, Gertie and Gizmo who traveled everywhere with him. He owned many draft horses over the years which he used to work in the woods.

He is survived by his wife, Mary of East Bethel; one sister, June Chaplin of Conway, N.H.; a daughter, Suzanne and her companion Jay of Harrison; two sons, Peter and his fiancé Dawn of East Bethel, and Andrew "Buck" and his wife Kathie of West Bethel; three stepdaughters, Sheila and husband Lincoln Warner of Bridgton, Christina and husband Bruce Simpson of Greene and Jenny Hibbard of Bridgton, two stepsons, Dale and his wife Judy Quimby of Casco and Darren Quimby of Honolulu, Hawaii; four grandchildren; 10 step grandchildren; one great-grandchild; and several nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by his parents; one brother, Harold Sr.; and a sister, Winona Tripp.

A memorial service will be held Saturday, April 22, at 11 a. m. at the Forest Hills Cemetery in Bridgton.

ADELE V. ZALE

Adele Vaigauskas Zale, 90, of Rumford, died early Tuesday, April 4, 2006 at the Sandy River Nursing Home, Farmington.

She was born July 6, 1915, in Boston, Mass., a daughter of Frank and Stasia (Basas) Vaigauskas.

She spent her younger years in Boston and attended Cambridge High and Latin School, the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston University and Gordon College.

She married the late John James Zale from Rumford, and raised their family at Rumford Corner where Adele ran a general store and later a ceramic shop where she taught classes.

She was an artist and musician, painting and playing the organ, she was often accompanied by her husband, John, on the accordion. She was an avid reader and amazing cook, especially of family Lithuanian recipes. She loved family fishing and camping trips to the Allagash and Vermont. She was a longtime member of the Rumford Point Congregational Church where she was a church organist and layminister. She was also a Girl Scout leader, Red Cross director and active member of the Pythian Sisters.

She particularly loved being an amateur radio operator. She spent many happy times behind the radio talking with people and making new friends from across the country and around the world.

She moved to Pensacola, Fla., for a number of years before returning to Maine. This is where she found her love of tropical birds and enjoyed volunteering with the Pensacola Air Station chaplain service.

She is survived by two sons, John F. Zale and his wife Delores of Minot, N.D., and Eric P. Zale of Albany; two daughters, Sylvia A. Bailey and her husband Walter of North Anson, and Patricia Sproles of Dallas, Texas; five grandchildren, Lonnie Sproles of Dallas, Texas, Nona Goheen of Minot, N.D., Jacolyn Bailey of Portland, Jennifer Bailey of Portland and Lucas Zale of Rumford; and four great-grandchildren, Alata Zale of Fargo, N.D., Wyatt Goheen, Brandon Goheen, and Logan Goheen, all of Minot, N.D. She was predeceased by her parents; husband; and grandson, John F. Zale Jr.

The family would like to extend their heartfelt thanks to all the caring staff at the Sandy River Nursing Home who looked after Adele in her final days.

A funeral service was held Tuesday, April 11, at the S.G. Thibault Funeral Home, Rumford. Spring interment will be in Rumford Corner Cemetery. If so desired, contributions in her memory may be made to The Franklin County Animal Shelter, 550 Industry Road, Farmington, ME 04938.

BEVERLY ANNE KIRN

Beverly Anne Kirn, age 63, of Greenwich Way, Kennebunk, and Bonita Springs, Fla., died Thursday morning, April 6, 2006 at Southern Maine Medical Center surrounded by her loving family after a battle with lung cancer.

Beverly was born in Worcester, Mass., on Jan. 11, 1943, the daughter of Michael Thomas and Josephine Anne (Days) DiTerlizzi. She graduated from Shrewsbury High School in 1960, attended Worcester Junior College and graduated from Carnegie Institute of Medical Technology.

She worked as an Administrative Assistant at Children's Hospital Medical Center in Boston from 1961 to 1966.

She married E. Bruce Kirn, O.D. on Aug. 7, 1965. They moved to Rumford, in 1966, where she helped him open his optometric practice. Besides being a homemaker, she was owner of the Rumford Drive-In Theater from 1968 to 1984. She worked tirelessly in many Rumford civic and charitable organizations. Most notably, she was a member of the Rumford Hospital Auxiliary for 17 years, where she served as its president and chairman of the Rumford Hospital Fair. She was recognized in 1996 for serving as founding trustee of Rumford Community Home, and as a community director on the hospital's parent corporation, Rumford Consolidated Healthservices, Corporation.

She was a member of the Rumford Book Club, the Searchlight Club, and was a proud founding member of the Rumford "Blabbies Bridge Club."

In 1997 she and her husband moved to Bonita Springs, Fla. She was a member of the Bonita Bay Golf Club. She worked as a sales associate at the Mole Hole in Naples, Fla., retiring in May of 2005.

She and her husband celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary last August.

She will be remembered for her warmth, compassion, and witty sense of humor. Her interests were varied from reading, gardening, decorating, cooking and entertaining to beach-combing, but most memorable will be her love and devotion to her family and friends.

She is survived by her husband of Kennebunk and Bonita Springs, Fla.; her son, Dr. W. Todd Kirn and his wife Jennifer of Kennebunk; her daughter, Heidi Kirn McMahon and her husband Neil of Teaneck, N.J.; her mother of Shrewsbury, Mass.; four grandchildren, Lily Kirn McMahon, Charles Kirn McMahon, Virginia Reese Kirn, and Gavin William Kirn; a sister-in-law, Katharine Kirn Russell, and a brother-in-law, Paul Russell of Wellesley, Mass.; and a niece, Lindsay Russell Moseley and her husband James of Arlington, Mass.

Funeral services were held on Monday, April 10, at Biber Memorial Chapel, Kennebunk. Private burial will be at Mountain View Cemetery in Claremont, N.H. In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made in her name to Hospice of Southern Maine, 901 Washington Avenue, Suite 104, Portland, ME 04103; or Rumford Community Hospital, 420 Franklin Street, Rumford, ME 04276.

In Loving Memory of My Youngest Son Curt Alan Martin

Although you have gone to live with God in your new home up above, I still love you with all my heart and send you all my love.

Mom Martin

In Loving Memory of Jerry Greenwell April 14, 2003

Sometimes, precious people are taken from our lives, leaving us behind to feel the pain.

When we can start to smile and share their stories with the world, in a special way, we give them life again.
